BLACKBOARD TIP

COURSE ENTRY POINT

Situation:
You want to change the first page the student sees when he opens your online course.

Approach:
1. Create the page you want the student to see.
2. Make sure the page appears in the course menu and that it is not hidden from students.
3. Under the Control Panel select Customization \(\rightarrow\) Teaching Style.
4. “Select Course Entry Point” from the drop down menu.

Student’s Perspective:
When the student logins in to Blackboard and selects the course, he will automatically be brought to the Course Entry Point page.

Example:
Customize Teaching Style.

Caveats:
- Remember to turn Edit Mode Off and view the Course Entry Point page as the student will see it.
- Course Structure is also available on the Teaching Style page. DO NOT CHANGE COURSE STRUCTURE after you have built your course. It is best to experiment with this feature BEFORE you build the course. Selected course structure's content is added to your course. Different structures can unintentionally hide links and pages or create what appear to be duplicates.
